

FIRE · DESIGN · CORTEN STEEL

Outdoor fire for hotels, restaurants and interior design projects

Original-design corten steel pieces, made in Valencia.

ABOUT US

Fire brings people together. Steel endures.

Villalón Garden designs and makes corten steel fire pieces for those who see the outdoors as an extension of how they live. No mass production: every piece leaves our workshop bearing the marks of its craft.

Behind every piece is Talleres Villalón, our industrial metalwork workshop in Valencia. We apply the same standards as in process equipment: real thicknesses, clean welds and finishes built to last decades.

Original design

Three pieces with their own character, not a generic catalogue. Forms designed to be the centre of the space.

In-house manufacturing

Cutting, bending and welding in our workshop. You deal directly with the maker.

Made to measure

We adapt sizes and finishes to each interior design, hospitality or residential project.

THE MATERIAL

Corten steel: a skin that improves with time

Corten steel develops a rust patina within a few weeks that protects the piece and gives it its warm colour. No paint or treatment needed: the longer it lives outdoors, the more character it gains.

- Weather-resistant 365 days a year
- No paint to flake off with the heat
- Minimal maintenance: just remove the ash
- On light floors, place on a base for the first months
